	19.01	Puls Biznesu: Poles want to watch TV in mobile phones Mobile television has a potential in Poland - says Info-TV-FM and it is preparing agreements for operators. In the narrowly determined research target group, in 31 cities, in which the service is supposed to be started, there is 1.2 m people interested in this service – convinced Agnieszka Sora, managing director of GfK Polonia. Cyfrowy Polsat, Canal+ Cyfrowy, Aster, Inea and CenterNet participate in the pilot program. In coming months it will be possible to sign contracts with at least one operator from the great four (one operator has already resigned).
Media i marketing: Assumptions remain without changes At the present consumer tests of services of the access to broadband Internet last, in the II quarter 2010 we will implement the package of three services: television, Internet, mobile phone and in the IV quarter we will complete it with the fourth service - home phone. We will also be developing VoD services launched recently. Interest in it exceeded our expectations – says Dominik Libicki	20.01
	24.01	SatKurier.pl: 1/3 Poles with the analogue TV? In Polish households a ground cable television is predominating. It is used by 37.4% respondents. One third (33.7 %) is declaring using analogue television, a little bit less - 28.4 % has the satellite television. Those are the results from the report of the consumer research conducted by PBS DGA Sp. z o.o. which was published on UKE web site.
