5G in every subscription in Plus

Plus mobile operator (Polsat Plus Group) has introduced 5G services to all of its postpaid offers. The new tariff plans include voice and Internet offers and are addressed to both individual and business customers.

Plus has prepared four options of 5G tariffs for individual customers, which are priced at PLN 35/month (with a 4GB data pack), PLN 55/month (30 GB), PLN 65/month (60 GB) and PLN 85/month (120 GB), respectively.

The 5G offering for business customers includes five options priced (net of VAT) at PLN 35/month (7GB), PLN 45/month (24 GB), PLN 55/month (40 GB), PLN 65/month (70 GB) and PLN 85/month (120 GB), respectively.

All packages include unlimited calls, MMSs and SMSs.

Moreover, individual customers are granted a one month access to HBO GO and, in case of the two higher-end plans, a 24 month access to TIDAL music service.

Furthermore, individual and business customers using other options than the lowest tariff plan will be granted additional benefits, such as, among others, an unlimited data transfer with the speed of 1 Mb/s after using their base packages.

Plus's 5G network already covers over 15 million inhabitants of Poland in around 500 locations countrywide (over 40% of population).

The new face of Netia

Andrzej Abramczuk, Netia's CEO (Polsat Plus Group) assessed that the pandemic was a very strong catalyst for the development of cloud services, in particular the so-called digital workplace.

He underlined that according to the analytical firms Polsat Plus Group, of which Netia is a part, is already today a leader in terms of overall collocation space in Poland. In April Netia put into operation a newly built data center near Warsaw and earlier the company took over the existing data center in Cracow. These two recent investments are part of the transformation of the operator's B2B segment towards providing ICT solutions, offered under the NetiaNext brand.

Netia's business segment specializes in integrating dedicated (tailored) broadband and cloud ICT solutions; from cybersecurity, through integrated communication to marketing services.

In parallel, the operator upgrades its telecommunication access network in order to provide its individual customers the services with the throughput exceeding 1 Gb/s (at present over 1.8 million households are within the reach of such services).

In cooperation within Polsat Plus Group, based on access to Plus mobile network, Netia has recently launched its first IoT (Internet of Things)-based solution, i.e., Netia Smart Building, which is aimed at facilitating the real estate management.
