	21.03	Puls Biznesu: Court reduced penalty for Orange by JK The court dispute between Orange Polska and the Office for Competition and Consumer Protection (UOKiK) has ended with a significant reduction of the penalty to be paid by the operator. The Court of Appeals in Warsaw issued a final and legally binding ruling ordering the company to pay PLN 3.9m for violating the collective interests of consumers, though originally the company was facing a penalty of PLN 16.2m, which was reduced to PLN 7m following the appeal made to the District Court. At the end of 2010 UOKiK charged Centertel (currently Orange Polska) with several illegal practices. The charges mainly concerned making it difficult for customers to become acquainted with the terms of the contracts that they concluded remotely, as well as misleading customers as regards the terms on which they could withdraw from such contracts without having to pay any charges. Dziennik Gazeta Prawna: TVP will clean up its web services by Barbara Sowa TVP plans to launch a new VOD platform this year. The performance of the existing VOD service operated by public TV is definitely below the results demonstrated by its competitors. TVP intends to withdraw its proprietary productions from competitive on-line services and from YouTube. Archive materials are intended to be TVP platform's strong point.
